

1st Junior Boys Championship of North Carolina Country Club of Salisbury Salisbury, NC August 1-3, 2005 Champion: Daniel Meggs, Charlotte

The first ever Junior championship of North Carolina was held at the newly renovated Donald Ross designed Country Club of Salisbury. The event is played under stroke play for North Carolina juniors. Daniel Meggs of Charlotte won his first CGA event by going into sudden death with Lee Bedford of Cary. On the first hole of the play-off Bedford missed a 6-foot par putt to allow Meggs to capture the trophy. "I hit the ball real good all week, and made a few putts today" said

Meggs. Both players competed for the overall championship and the boys 14-15 age division. The championship will continue on and will be renamed the Dogwood Junior in 2006 and beyond.

1st Junior Girls' Championship of North Carolina
Country Club of Salisbury
Salisbury, NC
August 1-3, 2005
Champion: Amber Littman, Stoney Creek

Two times a charm for Amber Littman of Stoney Creek. She captured not only the NC Junior Championship crown but also played stellar golf to capture the 1st Junior Girls' Championship of North Carolina trophy. Littman finished one shot better than Jordan Ridge of Pinehurst who happens to be one of her good friends. "Jordan played really great today, I just was able to focus and made the putts when I needed too," Littman said. Ridge finished second overall and was the winner of the girls 13-15 age division. Sydney Crane of Jamestown defeated Erica Creed of Colfax for second place in the girls 16-18 division. Courtney Taylor of Lincolnton finished in second while Virginia Mayer finished in third place in the girls 13-15 division.
