

92nd Carolinas Amateur Championship
Kiawah Island Resort (Turtle Point),
Kiawah Island, SC
July 12-16, 2006
Champion: Scott McClellan
Cary, NC

Scott McClellan became a most improbable Carolinas Amateur champion, thanks to a series of harrowing finishes at the Turtle Point Course on Kiawah Island, SC. The 46-year-old Cary, NC sales representative, capped an incredible week by winning the 36th and 37th holes for his overtime victory in the scheduled 36-hole final match with Whit Massey from nearby Mount Pleasant, SC. The previous day, McClellan bested Barden Berry of Kinston, NC, 5 & 3, before taking on past CGA champions Steve Harwell of Mooresville, NC in 20 holes in his semifinal match. He characterized his biggest-ever golf triumph with "This is unbelievable. What do you think the odds were of me winning this championship?" McClellan's best prior CGA finish was third place in the 2001 North Carolina Amateur. Defending champ Paul Simson, whose 2006 resume included the British Senior Open Amateur title, lost in the quarterfinal round.
