

8th Island Four-Ball
Casa De Campo, Dominican
Republic
February 26-28, 2004
Champions: Steve Harwell, Mooresville,
NC and John Hurt, Davidson, NC

Steve Harwell of Mooresville, NC and John Hurt of Davidson, NC played three rounds of steady golf at Casa de Campo resort in La Romana, Dominican Republic to win the 8th Island Four-Ball Championship. The three championship rounds were contested over Casa de Campo's three courses: Teeth of the Dog course (ranked #34 in the world by Golf Digest), the Links course and the new Dye Fore course at Altos de Chavon. All three courses were designed by Pete Dye.

Harwell and Hurt, who are members at River Run Country Club in Davidson, NC, opened the championship with a five-under par 67 on the Teeth of the Dog course to share the first round lead with Robert Kulp and Rick Wesley both of Winston-Salem, NC. Harwell and Hurt then made their move during round two on the often underrated Links course with a two-under par 69—136 to gain a two-stroke advantage over Kulp and Wesley. The Links course proved to be statistically the hardest course played during the championship. The final round on the Dye Fore course saw Harwell and Hurt make eight birdies against three bogeys en route to a five-under par 67—203 and a six-stroke margin of victory over Kulp and Wesley. However, Kulp and Wesley won the low net award in the Altos flight.
